

My Doggie Says...: Messages from Jamie Readers' Reactions

"My Doggie Says... gave us a whole new insight into Daisy's pupsonality. As I read, I laughed then cried and then laughed more. I hope many people read this book and gain helpful insight into how to relate to the furry members of their family."

"It was a fun book with lots of cute adventures."

"What I loved most is Fred's gentle style with Jamie."

"How touched I am to find your web site. Jamie could almost pass for our dog Sam. We lost our Sam yesterday to lymphoma complications. So now it is our turn to heal. Thank you for writing My Doggie Says..."

"After reading the book, we all feel so close to Jamie."

"Our dogs talk to us all the time. I always tell my husband that they say things to me. He also "hears" them talking."

"Your book helped me make it through the Christmas holidays. My husband died four months ago, and my companion, now, is my Golden Retriever. Your book helped me feel closer to my beloved Nala."

"Sometimes, our dogs communicate more clearly than our children! If Matty sees the suitcases coming out of the garage, she will put her ears back and sulk. She knows someone is going on a trip."

"Since our dog Abby is deaf, we talk to her with sign language. One day, I inadvertently stepped on her toes, and I made the sign for "I'm sorry," which is a fist on your chest moving in a circular motion. She put her paw on my hand and moved her paw in time with my hand!"

"When I turned to bring Daisy, a German Shepherd, in, she looked at me and said, "Are you kidding? I want to go in the car!"

"My dad brought this book home one day and I decided that I would read this for my class reading assignment. When I started reading it, I realized how great of a relationship a dog can have with its owner. I just wish that my dog was as cooperative as Jamie."
